Disruptive Security Challenges in the Middle East:
Technology for Combating Terrorism

Amman, Jordan, July 7, 2017- Based on the worldwide urgency to secure safety to our countries and realize sustainable industrial development, the Arab Federation for industrial Exports Development in partnership with the Interior Ministry in Jordan is launching the first Security Technology Exhibition in Amman on Oct 16-18, 2017. Choosing Amman for this event is due to its strategic location to supply the latest products and equipment to the Arab States markets and create a platform for learning and communication about the latest developments of the security industrials.

About IEST

IEST EXHIBITION comes as a response to the high market need of the security technology in the Arab States. This material could highly equip the police and all detection systems to control security and safety in our threatened societies. In addition, the growth of its industry and market could help sustain export development in the region.

IEST CONFERENCE is the must-attend event if you want to discover new security approaches, demo the latest technology, and interact with the world's security leaders. This two-day conference offers a lineup of sessions addressing the most pressing matters facing the sec tech field today. Featuring a top-notch lineup of speakers, IEST is the place to network with fellow professionals and stay abreast of the latest knowledge in the constantly evolving information security industry.
